Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claim 1, lines 2,3 “the chin region” and in claim 1, line 3 “the jaw region”, each, have no antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sowle.

Note Figures 1 and 2 and the snap fasteners (see column 2, line 47 and column 3, line 12) for the chin stabilizer 14, the chin stabilizer 14 of generally triangular configuration with the vertex at 74 and with a central portion for resting under the chin (see Figure 1). With respect to claim 2 note the curved portion adjacent the neck as shown in Figure 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sowle in view of Davenport et al. Sowle does not teach the chin stabilizer 14 comprising inner and outer layers about a layer of padding. Davenport et al. teach old to form a chin strap or chin stabilizer of inner and outer layers defined by 72 about a layer of padding 76. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide the chin stabilizer 14 of Sowle with the inner, outer and padding layers of Davenport et al. to achieve the advantage of distributing forces against the chin stabilizer as well as affording comfort to the wearer of the stabilizer.

7. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sowle in view of Schrack. Sowle does not teach the use of neoprene in forming the chin stabilizer. Schrack teaches old the use of neoprene (see column 3, line 56) in forming a chin stabilizer or chin strap 7. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the chin stabilizer 14 of Sowle such that it is formed of neoprene in the manner of Schrack to achieve the advantage of effecting water resistance.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Note particularly, the chin engaging structures of Nava, German publication to Voss et al., Chaise, European patent to Nocchi, Guerre-Berthelot, Ikeda, Schnitzler and Taniuchi, the neoprene of McLeod et al. and Perlinger and the snap fasteners at 26 of Kao.
